

PRAY FOR

ITALY

CORONAVIRUS

What more can I say? I would have never thought that there would have come a day when Italy and America would have so much in common. We see the same tears from so many thousands of grief-stricken families for their loss, we sense the same fears from an economy that has been driven to it's knees by this virus, we hear the same words of despair coming from so many families concerned about an unknown future. It is true....

We do pray for you, it's true! And we know you pray for us! We are truly united in a common struggle.

It seems like we don't even have to share via letter or phone or anything, all we need to do today is simply look at the news and what we see is that both USA and ITALY seem to be in the same difficult situation.

So, with that, we hold you up in our prayers as you continue your struggles with this pandemic.

Pray also for us as we are now heading into our 9th consecutive Sunday without "real people church".

As mentioned prior, if you can help out our 3 families that work full-time as pastors in the two churches, that would be fantastic. As you know, it is even quite impossible to give them cash since the lock-down prohibits moving from one part of the city to the next, therefore they are living with what offerings come in from those immediately around and of course the generous help we receive from the States.

Grazie again,
